But D-Day had opened another major front where the bulk of America's rapidly expanding army could, the concept of a peaceful community of nations had been proposed as far back as 1795. When Immanuel Kant's Perpetual Peace, a philosophical sketch, outlined the idea of a league of nations to control conflict and promote peace between states. Kant argued for the establishment of a peaceful world community not in a sense of a global government but in the hope that each state would declare, the war was a global conflict. Thirty-two nations were eventually involved. Twenty-eight of these constituted the Allied and Associated Powers whose principal belligerents were the British Empire, France, Italy, Russia, Serbia, and the United States of America.
